

INCorp Systems specializes in advance integrated control systems for automating the operation of audio, video and environmental management systems such as lighting and HVAC, offering solutions for residential, commercial and transportation applications. RTI products are uniquely designed to meet the needs of the electronics installation professional while providing a simplified interface for the end-user.

